

LATHAM WINS A
BIG CASH PRIZEAviator Makes a Daring Flight
Over Baltimore.

THOUSANDS WITNESS FEAT

Estimated That Half a Million People See the Aeronaut Accomplish a Dangerous Journey of Nearly Twenty-five Miles—Predictions That Latham Would Be Killed or Would Not Make the Venture Were Abundant.

Baltimore, Nov. 8.—Hubert Latham probably was the only aviator in Baltimore who believed he would accomplish a flight of nearly twenty-five miles, about half of it over this city. Predictions that he would be killed, that he would fall in the attempt and that he would not even make the venture were abundant. Now Latham is hailed on all sides as a hero who has accomplished the impossible.

He established a new record for over city flight and disclosed new possibilities in aviation.

The incentive for the flight was a prize of $5,000, offered by the Sun for a trip over a prescribed route from and returning to the aviation field.

Latham was to follow the course of the Patuxent river from near the aviation field to Fort Mifflin, whose banner furnished Francis Scott Key the inspiration for his famous poem, thence up the inner harbor to and around the Sun building, thence east to the city limits, a mile north, and thence west to Druid Hill park, down Charles street to Baltimore and thence again west and later southwest to the aviation field. There was to be a short detour for the benefit of Ross Winans, a wealthy invalid, who, unable to leave his home, offered an additional $500 if Latham would come within his range of vision.

All this Latham accomplished and into the programme he injected some wonderful evolutions. He varied his altitude from 400 to 2,000 feet and had to contend with wind blowing from seven to fifteen miles an hour. He used his fifty-horsepower Antoinette and was in the air forty-two minutes. It is estimated that the flight was witnessed by 500,000 people.

Every point of vantage about the city was occupied. All the tall buildings in the downtown section were covered by thousands and by noon every roof top was black with people.

Even low buildings had hundreds of spectators, and many more thousands, crowded to get places on roof tops, unable to get into the downtown thoroughfares or sought parks and open spaces.

Whole City Watching.

The whole city seemed to stop work and begin watching, and the excitement was added to by the terrific hubbub which steam whistles set up. Word came from Halethorpe that the airman was ready, and then in a moment or two the city hall bell began signaling that Latham had actually started.

In a few moments more those on the tall buildings saw a faint speck in the general direction of Halethorpe. This soon grew until it was easily distinguished. It was Latham's great Antoinette floating eastward.

Borne by the stirring breeze, which aided him greatly, Latham flew straight and true for Fort Mifflin, and when he was almost directly over the historic spot he slowly curved around and, heading in a generally northwestern direction, steered for the crowded "grand stands" in the skyscraper district.

Arriving over Baltimore street in the neighborhood of Calvert street, he made another turn, and in a second or two was off for Patterson park.

Soon he was again headed northwest and bound for Druid Hill park. Here again he met with head winds and turned toward Charles street. Curving round the Belvedere hotel, he flew to about the line of Calvert street, and there, some 2,000 feet in the air, performed a series of aerial gyrations, wheeling back and forth for the edification of Mr. Winans.

Possibly four minutes covered the time that Latham spent near the Winans' home, and then he struck off for the skyscraper district again. Over the Sun building he wheeled westward and near the edge of the city he bore away southwest for the aviation field.

There were real competitions at the aviation field, being the first thus far shown the public here. Here again Latham came to the front by winning first in the duration and also in the distance contests.

Dog Saves Several Lives.

Coon Valley, Wis., Nov. 8.—But for the barking of a little dog S. L. Owen and family might have been cremated. The dog smelled the smoke in the night and roused the family, who escaped just before the entire building was in flames. Their restaurant and the Edward Olson furniture store were destroyed.

Which He Did.

"I'll make somebody smart for this," exclaimed the man who had thoughtlessly kicked an innocent looking hen that lay on the sidewalk.

And he limped homeward and scolded his wife for not having dinner ready.—Exchange.

SELLING FARMS BY AUCTION

New System of North Dakota Realty
Dealers a Success.

Valley City, N. D., Nov. 8.—Selling farms by auction to the highest bidder promises to do away eventually with the present method of personal sale by contract. The plan has been tried at Nome with signal success.

The average price for the farms which were sold there was $50 an acre, although one particularly fine piece of land, with good improvements, brought $75 an acre.

The plan followed was the advertising of the sale and the issuing of an illustrated catalogue of the farms to be auctioned. These were sent to prospective buyers that they might note their first and second choice of land. When they arrived at Nome they were taken out in automobiles and shown the land they preferred. Two days were spent at this work and then the auction was held.

The first farm offered for sale brought $64 an acre. The bidding was spirited, as many had set their minds upon securing the same piece of property. This kept the prices above the ordinary and proved more satisfactory than the contract for deed plan.

Real estate dealers who put on the sale say they will continue this method in the future.

TWENTY-EIGHT STATES
TO ELECT GOVERNORSSixty-second Congress Also Will Be Chosen.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Election of state officers, judges of the supreme court, railroad commissioners, etc., will be held in thirty-eight states today. Maine, Vermont, Arkansas and Georgia have held their state elections, but the two latter states will elect representatives to congress. Maryland, Mississippi, Virginia and West Virginia likewise will elect congressmen. Maine and Vermont have already chosen their congressmen and state officers. In twenty-eight of the states, governors and full state tickets are to be elected. In nine others, justices of the supreme court and minor officials are to be chosen, while in Indiana state officers, except governor, will be elected.

A number of the states will elect members of the legislature. The terms of thirty United States senators expire March 3, 1911. The legislatures of Alabama, Maryland and Vermont have elected their senators.

The Sixty-second congress will be elected.

South Carolina and Louisiana have each but one ticket—the Democratic. The prohibition party has tickets in twenty-five states, the Socialist Labor in eight. The Independence league has a full state ticket in New York; the Keystone and the Industrial party each have a ticket in Pennsylvania; the People's Independent (Populist) has one in Nebraska, and the American party (anti-Mormon) one in Utah.

Thugs Beat Farmer.

Hankinson, N. D., Nov. 8.—After being beaten by three thugs, who overtook him while he was driving home from Hankinson, Albert Holst was thrown into the bottom of his wagon and driven to his home, where his wife discovered him. One eye had been gouged horribly and he was bruised from head to foot. Holst had sold a load of grain in the city and it was the proceeds of that sale that prompted the deadly attack. The men have escaped.

New American Record.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 8.—Traveling steadily at a pace of seventy-two miles an hour Joe Horan, driving a Lozier car, won the 250-mile speedway grand prize here and set a new American record for the distance. His time of 3 hours 26 minutes and 15.10 seconds beats the previous record of 4 hours 28 minutes and 57.4 seconds made by Burman in a Buick at the Indianapolis speedway Aug. 19, 1909, and comes within four minutes of equaling the world's record for 300 miles made at Brooklands, Eng. Horan took down $3,000 of the $5,000 prize offered for the race.

CAMPAIGN IS NOW HISTORYStimson and Roosevelt End It in New York.

BOTH SIDES ARE CONFIDENT

Betting, However, Is in Favor of the Democrats in the Empire State—Republicans Claim That the Betting Is Largely Fictitious and That the Prices Are Quoted for Wash Bets Only.

New York, Nov. 8.—The New York gubernatorial campaign of 1910 passed into history with Henry L. Stimson, the Republican candidate, and Theodore Roosevelt, his most prominent backer, voicing their last appeals for votes. The final word on the Democratic side was spoken Sunday night. Mr. Dix spent the last day of the campaign at home.

Mr. Stimson occupied the day and evening on the stump or in an automobile hurrying between political rallies in New York city.

Mr. Dix said that his statement issued Sunday was positively his last word before election.

The Dix leaders say the quiet that prevailed on their side of the campaign was itself evidence of confidence.

"Our party up state is in better shape than at any time for the past fifteen years," said Chairman Rodie. "We have not had a single message which does not indicate that every thing is satisfactory."

Chairman Prentice of the Republican state committee said:

"I'm absolutely confident we'll carry the whole ticket and I don't think the vote will be close."

Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the Republican county committee, said:

"The situation looks better than it did two days ago."

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, as usual, kept his opinions to himself. The Democrats have high hopes of ousting three prominent Republican congressmen. In the Thirtieth district Herbert Parsons, former Republican county chairman, is opposed by Jefferson M. Levy, who once represented the district in congress and who has attacked Mr. Parsons for alleged sugar trust affiliations. In the Seventh district William S. Bennett, who was prominently mentioned for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, is opposed by Henry George, Jr., son of the famous single tax advocate.

Hopes to Defeat Bennett.

Tammany Hall hopes also to defeat William M. Bennett, the assemblyman who won the Republican nomination away from Congressman Vanvechten Olcott. On account of the Bennett-Olcott fight, Thomas G. Patten, the Democratic candidate, expects to overcome the normal Republican plurality.

All the big hotels have made elaborate preparations to entertain the crowds and to display the returns, and the rule "nothing but champagne after 10 o'clock" will obtain at many places.

Mr. Stimson will receive the returns at his campaign headquarters in the Hotel Manhattan.

Colonel Roosevelt says he has made no preparations. He said that he supposed that somebody would tell him the news, and if not, that he should hear it the next day. Mr. Dix and Chairman Huppoch of the Democratic state committee will be at Dix's home in Thomson.

Gossip of the hotel corridors and the talk of the street had it that the campaign betting odds in these last pre-election hours were fluctuating between 3 to 1 on Dix and 3½ to 1 on Dix. The Republicans charge, however, that the betting is largely fictitious and that the prices are quoted for "wash" bets only, in which no money changes hands.

It was reported that just after the close of the stock exchange for the day one broker offered $20,000 to $6,000 on Dix and found no Stimson takers. These are odds of 3½ to 1, but it is said that odds of 3½ to 1 were accepted earlier in the day. A bet of $6,000 to $5,000 that Dix would have a plurality in the state of 50,000 or more was reported.

A considerable amount of Stimson money from Buffalo appeared in the afternoon, but the askers wanted 4 to 1 and found no takers. A peculiar feature of the speculative records this year has been that whereas in general the odds tend to tighten at the last moment, this time they have lengthened—in current report at least.

Talk of Reciprocity.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 8.—The reciprocity commissioners of the United States and Canada, in a two-hour session, began formulating a schedule of tariff concessions, which, it is believed, will stimulate international commerce. While no definite announcement was made there was an apparent feeling of satisfaction among the commissioners and a belief the work of reaching an agreement will not prove difficult.

JOHN R. M'LEAN.

Candidate for United States Senator From Ohio.

M'LEAN TO ENTER CONTEST

Will Be a Candidate for United States Senator.

Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—That John R. McLean is to be a Democratic candidate for the United States senate in case Governor Judson Harmon is re-elected and a Democratic legislature is named was seen here when McLean's affidavit was sent to the board of elections and accepted by it.

For the past nine years John R. McLean has never stepped foot in Ohio. When he was defeated for governor of Ohio by Nash he left the state and returned to Washington to look after his financial interests there. Since that time he has never returned to Ohio and has since taken his newspaper out of politics. He stated a few years ago, in an editorial in that publication, that it was henceforth a newspaper in name and action; that it would give both sides of every question it considered and that it would give to no party any privileges. This has been strictly adhered to.

However, this campaign has seen a loosening up of it in its news columns and Democratic politics have always taken the lead over the opposite party's by a good margin.

JOHN DEITZ FREE
FOR A SHORT TIMEDefender of Cameron Dam Is Again Arrested.

Hayward, Wis., Nov. 8.—Attorneys Zabel and Schultz, head of the Deitz defense committee, arrived here from Eau Claire, where they had been to receive Judge Wickham's approval of bonds of $40,000. The bond was approved and recorded, after which procedure Deitz was notified that for a time at least he was again a free man.

His wife and Clarence were overjoyed, and quickly bringing his overcoat, Clarence assisted his father to put it on, and Deitz stepped out on the porch of the jail, where he proceeded to inhale a few whiffs of the brisk November air. During this time he was smiling, chatting happily with the people around the jail porch. However, his period of freedom was very short.

Barely had the overcoat been placed on Deitz when Sheriff Madden said "Come here, John." Deitz complied and a warrant for the shooting at Patrick McGin on May 8, 1904, was read to him before he had left the porch of the Sawyer county bastille, and once more the famous Cameron dam defender was placed behind the bars.

Schultz objected very strenuously, and wanted to know if this was the last of the charges, but no information was given him on that score. Schultz stated repeatedly, "Never mind. We can furnish bail in any amount up to $150,000."

He kept saying that he and the people of Milwaukee were in a position to furnish any amount of bail. Schultz stated he has not the $10,000 bail for Leslie yet, but expects it in a day or two. Bail for Mrs. Deitz is available at any time by Herman Voight and W. W. Deitz, but she does not want it until John Deitz is liberated. Zabel was very much put out at the rearrest of his client.

Appoints Court of Inquiry.

Washington, Nov. 8.—John E. Gilman, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, has appointed the court of inquiry requested by Past Senior Vice Commander John McElroy of this city to investigate charges alleged to have been circulated against the latter at the encampment of the Grand Army at Atlantic City. The court probably will sit here in December.

BOND INTEREST EQUALS TAX

Louisiana Exposition Securities Will Be Unpaid at End of Ten Years.

The following press dispatch, published in the New Orleans Times-Democrat, is self-explanatory:

"Crowley, La., Sept. 23.—A petition to the voters of Acadia parish is being circulated, calling upon the voters to register, in order to be in a position to vote against the Panama exposition tax, Nov. 8. The petition recites that, according to the statement, the country parishes are assessed at $204,373,526 and the city or parish of New Orleans at $231,045,937, and that as per the present assessment the country will pay $106,639.80 per year, or $1,066,398 in 10 years, and New Orleans $173,284.45 per year, or in 10 years $1,732,844.50. It states further that the interest on these bonds will be $280,000 per year, or just about equal to the amount of tax paid in each year, so that at the end of 10 years the state will still owe the six and one-half million dollars at 4 per cent interest bonds, which by the act of the parish of Orleans proposes to pay. This sentiment is divided on this question of taxation, and the promoters of this petition declare that they will push it through."

Give California Fair Deal.

There seems to be a controversy on between New Orleans and San Francisco for the World's Panama Exposition, which will be held in 1915. Both cities are claiming that they are each the most logical point for the great exposition and then they clamor about the money possibilities. While we are not inclined to mix up in this fight and injure the possibilities of either place by settling the question as to where the exposition shall be held, yet we think the west is entitled to some of the good things, and we suggest that the Sunset state be given at least a fair deal in this matter. Gallup (N. M.) Republican.

Will Benefit The Whole Coast.

The Napa Register says the master of the State Grange expresses the sentiments of the people living in that section when he says of the proposed Panama-Pacific exposition: "An exposition of this nature, if properly managed, can not fail to be of vast benefit, not only to California, but to the whole Pacific coast. I believe the Grange will do well to favor and encourage the movement."

Will Pay Its Own Bills.

San Francisco boosters are going about in the most practical way to secure support for their proposed exposition. They have raised a large sum of money, more than was ever invested in an exposition in America, and propose to pay their own bills without tapping the government till. This will commend San Francisco to the public.—Omaha Bee

Those on Sixty-one Railroads
Are Likely to Quit.

WAGE INCREASE IS DEMANDED

Alteration of Working Conditions
Also One of the Changes Contended for by the Railroad Employees—Negotiations With Railroad Officials End in Failure.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A strike vote will be taken among engineers of sixty-one railroads west, south and north of Chicago, including the Illinois Central, following the termination of the negotiations between the roads and grand officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which had been in session since Sept. 26. Differences on wage increases of approximately 7 per cent and alteration of working conditions stood between the negotiators.

Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of the brotherhood, who has been leading the railroad men in their demands, said he believed the strike vote would be unanimously in favor of suspension of work and that the engineers would have expressed their desire by Dec. 10.

Immediately thereafter, he said, a last opportunity would be given the railroads to meet the workers and if they ignored that opportunity within five hours every engine west of Chicago, on all branches of service, would be stilled and the fires drawn and out of the thousands of cabs would step every driver on duty.

The representatives of the engineers in the twenty-five conferences, which ended without result, were:

Warren S. Stone, grand chief, and Ash Kennedy, F. A. Burgess, H. Corrigan, M. W. Cadle and S. B. Walls, assistant grand chiefs, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Their negotiations received the advice of fifty division managers of the brotherhood, who directly represented the smaller councils of the order.

Railroad officials, as follows, heard the engine drivers' demands:

Heard Demands of Employees.

W. B. Scott, Union Pacific; E. E. Ward, Burlington lines; F. C. Batchelder, Chicago Terminal, Baltimore and Ohio; W. A. Durham, Missouri, Kansas and Texas; F. H. Emerson, Great Northern; T. J. Foley, Illinois Central; F. C. Fox, Atchafalpa, Peoria and Santa Fe; Grant Hall, Canadian Pacific; H. J. Simmons, Milwaukee and Northwestern and A. W. Tremaine, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha.

The whole question arose from the decision of the engineers themselves in convention at Detroit last spring. In a three weeks' session it was decided that the existing wage scale, in effect since February, 1907, was unsatisfactory and that working conditions had been imposed by railroads which should be eliminated. The grand officers were named to meet the railroads and present the demands.

The general working conditions of which the engine drivers complain include, among other things, the following:

Drivers of the Mallet Compound engines, which do practically the work of two engines, and entail a correspondingly greater responsibility and capability, receive the same wages as other drivers of high power engines of much lesser capacity.

Engineers wish to be relieved of the toil of preparing their engines for travel and of caring for them after the runs.

Switching time should be paid for on a different basis.

The magnitude of the wage question is evidenced by a statement by the employers that the 7 per cent wage difference now standing between the drivers and the railroads means approximately $2,800,000 a year. The cost of alterations of the working conditions, minor considerations in the conference, would be less than $300,000, it was asserted.

Uses Knife When Asked to Pay.

Faribault, Minn., Nov. 8.—J. W. Barnett, a Faribault merchant, was stabbed about the head by a man named Borst. Mr. Barnett had asked Borst to pay a bill. This enraged Borst, who laid for his victim when he came out of his place of business and attacked him with a knife. Barnett succeeded in knocking down his assailant. Borst fled, but was captured.

Stabbed by Footpads.

He is in a very weakened condition from loss of blood, but will recover.

caused much comment in the country and Brainerd gets the advertising.November 24th is Thanksgiving

Three years ago during a quarrel his wife told him she would henceforth and his defense on the latter charge was that he had scruples about kissing the hired girl. The judge, however, thought he should maintain his

he will be arrested on another when the time for election arrives, and in fact the elimination of John Lind as a possibility for United States senator practically clears the field. Lind's declaration and campaign for senator Clapp has brought many another democrat in line for his re-election, and while the statement from Lind has not had the effect of bringing any number of re-

WHAT PRESIDENT WILL FIND WHEN HE REACHES PANAMA

A Landslide and a Threatened Monopoly of the Coal Supply.Will Also Look Into Question of Fortifying
the Canal.WHEN President Taft sails for Panama he will break an old rule that the chief executive of the United States is never to leave American territory. Technically he will not violate that precedent, since he will sail on a United States battleship, which is considered American territory, and presumably will set foot only on the canal strip, which is also American soil. Thus he will not fracture the ancient custom too violently, although he will leave the shores of the United States proper.Arrived at the isthmus, the president will find a recent slide in the Culebra cut, which, however, is not believed to be serious. He will also run into a rather acute question as to coal supply and is expected to take steps to prevent the government from being jobbed by special interests.The biggest question he will have to consider, however, will be that of fortifying the canal. By being on the ground and examining the matter at first hand he can size up the situation better than he could more than 2,000 miles away.The president will sail for the isthmus Nov. 11 on the North Carolina.
President Taft will make a special study of plans for the distribution of coal at the two terminals of the canal in order to prevent any monopoly of the sale of coal. He is determined that private interests shall not seize the monopoly, and to this end, if the forthcoming inspection warrants such action, coaling stations will be established by the government which will supply not only war vessels, but ships of commerce. President Taft believes that the facts obtained should be embodied in recommendations for presentation to congress at the earliest possible moment.Although Jan. 1, 1915, is given as the date for the completion of the canal, it is expected that the work will be finished before then, and the president insists that the details of administration shall be arranged in readiness for the opening.The question of tolls is one which gives the president much concern. It is the purpose to make the canal a paying investment for the government, but rates which would return more than 2½ per cent on the $400,000,000 which will have been paid out when the canal is completed may be considered so excessive by shipowners that they would not patronize the canal. Experts figure that 2½ per cent on $400,000,000 annually is what the government pays for the vast sum invested in the canal.Labor conditions have already given the Panama officials much concern.
High class artisans are demanding a wage increase based on increases granted to similar trades in this country. They put forward their demands on the score of the higher cost of living. President Taft has been informed that high prices have not reached Panama, with the single exception of fresh meat, which has gone up a cent a pound. It is expected that wage schedules will have been adjusted before the president leaves the isthmus.President Taft will examine thoroughly into the question of extended fortifications. This subject will bear directly on the form of government to be adopted. Many of the officials now in charge of the work are army men, and it is known they favor a military administration for the isthmus. Should this be adopted it is believed that the Panama railroad and the canal would be amalgamated in so far as administration is concerned; otherwise the two highways would be established separately.What Beauty Is Called.Socrates called beauty a short lived

COUNCIL HANDS TOLZ ULTIMATUM

Must Act on the Light and Power Contract by Thursday, Nov. 10th

OR NEGOTIATIONS ARE OFF

Jamieson Refused Liquor License—Wise Refused Transfer—Tax Resolution Adopted

The city council met in regular session last night, Aldermen Hennings, Cardle, Dieckhaus, Paine, Drexler, Kjellquist, Dieckhaus and Vice President Zakariasen being present. Alderman Gardner was still romping through Ireland and President Toohey was sick in bed.

On motion the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The council delivered an ultimatum to Max Toltz of the Toltz Engineering Co., of St. Paul, by telephone and instructed him to sign the light and power contract before Thursday night eight o'clock, or the council would cease to have any further dealings with Mr. Toltz.

City Attorney Ryan stated he had conferred with the company in St. Paul and their attorney had drawn up a contract virtually the same as his with the exception of two provisions, one requiring the city to renew the contract at the end of ten years or to purchase the plant and the other to give the company money of an exclusive franchise.

The council, on motion, agreed to hold an adjourned meeting next Thursday to consider the Toltz matter.

A large number of bills were allowed including the sprinkling bills, pay roll volunteer fire department $61.25, John Larson feed and coal $28.70; a number of rock bills, registration day bills, Fisher-Vaughn bills, Louis Knutsen profile of 30 inch Laurel street sewer $75, street bills aggregating $1003.52, Frank Velette, 13th street road grading contract, Ritari Bros., curbing bills, library accounts, etc.

The bill of the Water and Light board for current furnished lamp posts was referred to the electric light committee. The bill as rendered was set at 45 cents a post.

The bill of the Water and Light board $25 for lighting Gregory square, was referred to the park board.

On motion of Alderman Zakariasen the windows of the hose house in Southeast Brainerd were ordered repaired.

The city engineer was instructed to make no estimates on Farrar street or 4th Ave. N. E.

The action of the council on liquor licenses occasioned some surprise. Alderman Cardle voted in favor of granting a license to J. C. Jamieson at 216 South Fifth street and the remaining seven voted against it. No license was therefore granted.

All voted aye except Alderman Kjellquist on the liquor application of Frank Wolvert, 418 Front street.

All voted aye, except Alderman Kjellquist, on the liquor application of Iver Holden, 520 Laurel street.

All voted aye, except Alderman Kjellquist, on the liquor application of William Costello, Hayes building, Sixth street.

All voted aye against granting a transfer of the license of John Wise 606 Laurel street to Charles Ralston and Alva Clark.

A letter was read from H. A. Lindsey, deportation agent of the state board of control, notifying the council that the board's inspector had examined the lock up and the city should install new bedding, new stoves, clean up the place thoroughly and remove the old junk in the place.

The assessment roll covering lateral sewer "M", district No. 1 was adopted all voting aye.

The city clerk's report for October was read and accepted as follows:

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"My Cinderella Girl"

One of the most important musical productions of the local season is William Norris's Siwash College baseball farce, "My Cinderella Girl," which will be seen here at an early date direct and intact from a record breaking run of three hundred and ten performances at the Whitney opera house, Chicago. The play is by Richard Walton Tully, co-author of "The Rose of the Rancho," with David Belasco, and Robert M. Baker. The music is by William Frederick Peters who composed the tuneful score of "The Mayor of Tokio." The many musical numbers have been artistically staged by Gus Solhke who is responsible for the staging of not only the Whitney opera house successes, but of the La Salle shows as well.

BRAINERD AUTO CO. IS ORGANIZED

John Ernster Elected Pres., E. C. Bane Vice Pres., and F. S. Graham, Secy.-Treas.

WILL ACT AS DISTRIBUTING AGT.

For Overland Car in Large District Also Attending to Repairing of Automobiles

The Brainerd Auto Co., has been organized with John Ernster, of Calaway as president, E. C. Bane vice president and F. S. Graham secretary and treasurer.

The business of the corporation shall be the buying, selling, building, renting and repairing of automobiles, boats and other power driven machinery, the buying and selling of real estate, the loaning of money for itself and agents. Its duration shall be 15 years, and its principal place of business shall be this city.

The capital stock shall be $25,000 and its highest indebtedness shall be limited to $15,000.

The company will immediately plan and carry out an aggressive campaign for the sale of the Overland automobiles and will act as the distributing agency for this auto, having secured the territory embracing the counties of Wadena, Morrison, Aitkin, Crow Wing, Cass county south of the south line of Hubbard county and Todd county north of Long Prairie. It will also act as manufacturer's agent for the Good-year Tire Co.

The first contract made by the Brainerd Auto Co., calls for the delivery of 25 cars. They will be here in due season so that some of them may be on exhibition at the time the Northern Minnesota Development association meeting is in progress.

Contracts for sub-agents will soon be closed up in their territory. An expert repair man of the twin cities has been engaged and he will install such machinery as is necessary for an up to date repair shop. A full line of tires, supplies, etc., will be carried. It is expected to commence business operations about November 15th.

For the present, at least, no lively business will be carried on, simply the sale of autos and repair work.

On Sunday F. W. Bowman, the president and general manager of the Northwestern Overland Co., of Minneapolis, brought up the first Overland car under its own power from Minneapolis. They left Minneapolis at ten o'clock in the morning, stopped at St. Cloud for dinner and arrived at Brainerd about five in the afternoon. This car is now on exhibition and is a 25 horse power four passenger car with a detachable tonneau. It carries gas lights and has a top, wind shield. It has a dark blue finish. The cars the Brainerd Auto Co. will handle will range in price from $775 to $1,675.

The store room of E. C. Bane at 220 South Seventh street, a room 25 by 100 feet in dimension, steam heated and well lighted, will be occupied as its place of business. A wide entrance has been cut in the rear brick wall and electric lights have been placed there. The new company starts out with every assurance of being successful.

STOMACH TROUBLE GOES

Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Five Minutes After Taking Diapiesin

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourness, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of gas and eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is as about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

HEAVY VOTE CAST

An Unprecedented Number of Women Campaigning and Voting in all Wards of City

The fine, bracing weather has been most favorable for a large vote at this election. The fight for the office of county superintendent of schools has brought out an unusually large vote. In the city it is estimated that Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley is running ahead of her opponent, Prof. P. V. Malm.

In the first ward 175 votes were cast at 2:15 P. M. It is estimated that 50 women voted here.

In the second ward 394 votes were cast up to 2:30 P. M. It is figured that 120 women voted here. The polling place was jammed with women. Every booth housed a lady and many stood on the sidewalk waiting to be next.

In the third ward 292 votes were cast up to 2:45 P. M. The clerk, when questioned did not know how many women had voted and answered "Great Caesar, it seems to be nothing but women voting."

In the fourth ward at 2:45 P. M. 263 votes were cast of which it is estimated that one half were women.

In the fifth ward 267 votes were cast up to 2 P. M., of which it is estimated that 97 were women.

Today has been a great day for the ladies and will go down in history as excellent in excitement any other occurrence in the annals of our fair city.

FIND DEER MEAT

Game Wardens Quinn and Onstine Find Game Out of Season in a Merrifield House

Armed with a search warrant Game Wardens W. H. Onstine and James M. Quinn examined the house of Guy Pratt yesterday at Merrifield and found two hind quarters of a deer alleged to have been concealed in his house.

The case of Mr. Pratt will be heard on Wednesday before Judge J. H. Warner, of the municipal court.

IDLE PLANT SOLD

R. M. Sheets, of Long Prairie Argus, Shies His Caster in Newspaper Arena

Ralph M. Sheets, of Long Prairie, has bought the old Arena plant and will take possession on Monday. Cong. C. A. Lindbergh will issue his magazine from this press, the mechanical supervision of which will be in the hands of Mr. Sheets.

The Arena went out of business some two months ago, publication having been suspended at that time, and the new proprietor acquires only the material with which the office was operated.

Congressman Lindbergh will exercise the editorial supervision over his magazine and Mr. Sheets will have charge of the printing. Mr. Sheets was editor at Tower, Minn., for two years, and has charge of the Long Prairies Argus since the death of his father.

Symphony Orchestra

That Minneapolis has within the last eight years developed one of the three greatest orchestras in America has been asserted by Paderewski and other musicians and critics, and wherever the orchestra has been heard on its tours during the last few years, it has established itself as the peer of any which have preceded it. Its successes in Winnipeg, Duluth, Des Moines, Omaha, Lincoln, Kansas City, have been little less than sensational, and it is re-engaged at practically every place it appeared last spring, besides which the urgent calls from other music centers have made it necessary to add three weeks to the length of its tour this year.

Mr. Glenn Dillard Gunn, Chicago's leading music critic, now with the Tribune, recently heard the orchestra and paid it the following remarkable tribute. The excerpt here given is part of an article covering over a column:

"A recent visit to Minneapolis enabled me to hear a rehearsal of Mr. Oberholfer's orchestra. It was the renewal of a very pleasant experience, an experience that in the nature of things musical is necessarily rare. I learned to know an exceedingly forceful and interesting personality in the gifted conductor and I had the rare pleasure of imbibing the musical impulse that emanates many characteristic and individual manifestations from every symphonic body. The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra is today an organization that can compare favorably with our own. There are, in fact, many points of similarity. The wood-winds, trumpets, and horns, are about equal to ours. The lower sections of the string body share the virtues of tonal beauty, and solidity that have long distinguished the Thomas cellos and basses, while the seconds duplicate our weakness and the first seem to nearly equal ours. In all matters of rhythmical and tonal precision the Thomas orchestra is perhaps a trifle better by reason of its many years of added experience. But in attention, in discipline, and its enthusiasm, the advantage would seem to lie with the younger body."

This famous organization will appear in this city on Nov. 17th, under the auspices of the Ladies Musical club.

Corsets? Yes, and when you think of Corset Comfort, Think W. B.

No part of a woman's dress is more important than her corset.

What matters the fineness of her gown, the prettiness of its colors, the sweep of its soft folds, if it be not a good fit?

And how in the name of sense can it be a good fit unless its wearer has the right kind of corset and that corset properly and sensibly adjusted to her figure?

Of making corsets there is no end. But there's none better than W. B. There's grace for you. And slim length. And a willowy suppleness. And shape holding. And comfort. But while W. B. has all these things, W. B. must be properly fitted to your figure. There are enough W. B. models to suit all forms. The study and knowledge of anatomy is one of the heaviest helps in the building of these famous corsets. They're beautifully scientific.

We've made our corset section a mecca for women who care for their figures. We have the service—the right service. We're fitting women who tell us they've never before had just the needed touch in the adjusting and putting on of their corsets.

There are several new models of W. B. corsets recently in that we'd like to have you see. Prettier garments we've never handled. As to their quality and ability to give you a good figure, we are enthusiastic.

W. B. Models are popularly priced.

"AERONECK" THE LATEST.

Companion Affliction For Automobile Face.

Society is fast getting the aero neck. It was hard to find at the Belmont park meet any one who could look you straight in the face, as every man, woman or child had the head well back between the shoulders, with eyes directed straight into the heavens. Such was the case whether standing or sitting, and it was next to impossible to get recognition from any one, a nod of the head or a "how-de-do" without standing directly in front and spelling a sight of an aeroplane well up in the skies.

As aviation meets are increasing in number and frequency throughout the country, "aeroneck" is bound to become a national complaint.

you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. This heater has a cool handle and a damper top.

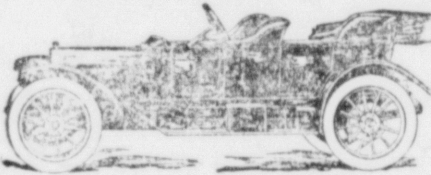

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

DREXEL TELLS OF HIGHEST FLIGHT

Both He and Johnstone Break Altitude Record.

FEAR IN AIR MEANS DEATH

When the American Millionaire Aviator Went Up Over Seven Thousand Feet in a Monoplane at Belmont Park, Describes His Sensations—Awfully Cold Aloft, but Great Sport.

The day the American altitude record was broken there were eighteen aeroplanes in the air at Belmont park, New York, sixteen of them contesting for prizes and ten of them at one time circling the mile and a half course. There were solid, plodding Wright biplanes, wasplike Bleriot, a graceful Antoinette, a dainty Demoiselle, a bulky Farman and speedy Curtiss fliers. The star flier of the day was J. Armstrong Drexel, millionaire aviator, who flies for sport and who broke the American record for height, later broken again by another American, Ralph Johnstone. Drexel reached an altitude of 7,105 feet, skimming upward until he almost seemed about to break through the dome of blue, but returning finally to earth.

The altitude of Drexel surpasses his own record made several weeks ago in England, and also the record made by Walter Brookings, who flew 6,175 feet in Atlantic City last summer. He lacked more than 2,000 feet of breaking the world's record of 9,180 feet made by Henry Wynnman, but he flew upward so easily and gracefully the feat looked simple. Rising from the aerodrome, he circled upward, his machine growing smaller and smaller until he looked like a spider crawling along on the underside of the tenuous white clouds that decked the sky, and then he became smaller still, until it was hard for the eye to follow him.

Still higher he went, and to the naked eye he seemed fixed in one place, destined never to descend. If the eyes fell from him for a moment it took minutes to find him again. It took him more than twenty-five minutes to wind his way upward, but once he pointed the nose of his machine earthward he grew slowly larger, and as he neared the earth the pounding of his engine became faintly audible, and it was evident lack of fuel did not force him to flit back to the aerodrome.

"It was cold as the devil up there," he remarked as he crawled slowly out of the machine. He rubbed his face and twirled out his little mustache with stiff fingers. "But," he continued as he took several steps to warm up, "I will go higher yet. It was awfully cold, and the wind was stiff, but it was easy. I had no difficulty what ever. My engine worked superbly, but as it tended to heel over to the left I had to be on my guard constantly. Except for this fact, which compelled me to be on the alert, it was great sport, but the next time I go up I am going to be dressed more warmly. However, I had good experience, and I hope I may go higher still."

Drexel by his altitude record and by his various other feats in his Bleriot has been rising rapidly to the fore, most of the world's aviators. In his flying he shows excellent skill, coolness and resource that equal those of such men as Leon Morane, Hubert Latham and Alfred Leblanc. He is without fear, for, as he said:

"If you think of fear you are a dead man."

Drexel is the American millionaire of the famous Philadelphia family, who lives in England, where he conducts an aviation school at Beaulieu. Shortly before he set off on his record breaking whirl to the aerial heights he had visited his sister-in-law, Mrs. Marjory Gould Drexel, at the grand stand. Without any ostentation he ordered his trim little monoplane brought out on the turf. So far as the crowd knew the aviator, who seemed twirling the ends of his mustache simply was off to make an ordinary hourly altitude record.

ROMANTIC SPAIN OF LONG

Overthrow of Last Monarchy In Iberian Peninsula and Installation of Republican Government Expected by Europe.

By ROBERTUS LOVE.
RECENT events in Spain, land of romance and revolution, indicate early and important changes in the present unstable governmental regime.

Will revolution blaze forth in democratic fury, displacing royalty altogether and rearing upon the crumbled throne a republic, following the lead of Portugal, the smaller neighbor of Spain upon the western border of the Iberian peninsula? Will civil war arise, due to the struggle between the clericals and the anti-clericals—the age worn quarrel of church and state—and result in the dethronement of Alfonso and the restoration of the Carlists, with Pretender Don Jaime as monarch, or will Premier Canalejas, the liberal, be sufficiently skillful to steer between the Scylla of religion and the Charybdis of revolution and maintain the present dynasty?

In any event, Spain totters. She has tottered for many generations, but never so desparingly as since the battle she fought twelve years ago by the United States. Our defeat of Spain, the practical annihilation of her navy by Dewey and by Sampson and Schley, resulting in the loss of her last colonial holdings in the western hemisphere and the orient, was in effect the knockout blow which put to sleep the proud nation of the world—a nation which four centuries ago was mistress of the world; a nation which, like a decrepit Jeffries of the prize ring, has fought round after round with increasing feebleness in its pathetic effort to "come back" but has kept up the fight thus long because of pride in old time prowess and not in the hope of regaining that prowess.

Spain a Pathetic Figure.

Spain today is the most pathetic figure in the galaxy of nations. Rotten to the vitals, reeking with the immemorial infamy of unspeakable crimes, she is but the putrescent corpse of a nation, and in the beginning of this century of light and leading she seems to have reached the point where the old regime will be utterly extinguished and by the reincarnation of the republican spirit a new Spain will arise.

When Columbus, under the patronage of the queen of Spain, discovered America the Castilian monarchy ruled the world. Spanish fleets dared every sea that was explored and defied the ships of any nation that ventured to dispute her supremacy. The spherical form of the earth once established by circumnavigation, Spain sent her soldiers to the virgin new world and to the unconquered outposts of the old, exploring, annexing, colonizing. Nearly all South America and Central America and much of North America were hers. The Antilles were hers. The Philippine archipelago was hers. Vast holdings in northern Africa and in Europe beyond the Iberian peninsula were hers. Today she holds a handful of insignificant islands a few miles from her mainland coast—and little else.

What has wrought this stupendous change in the status of Spain? It is largely a matter of climate, but over and beyond that impassable barrier of active and permanent progress lies the Latin twilight zone of incompetency for governmental administration. This also, in fact, is a matter of climate.

Spain is a southern country, a warm country. The siesta, the afternoon repose, still inheres in the very fiber of Spanish life. In the northern countries, such as Germany, England and the United States, the necessary struggle against cold weather for a considerable portion of the year has produced strenuous men. Strenuous men do things and continue doing them. Indolent men may be aroused at times, but they sink back into repose. There is a fierce strain in the Latin blood which, when agitated, works valiantly for a time, but the inevitable siesta strain supervenes.

ON VERGE EXPECTED CRISIS

Anniversary of Ferrer's Death, Vatican Dispute and Rebellion In Portugal Factors in Castile's Stormy Future.

Spain has been able to conquer, but she has not been able to keep. She has had, but she has not held. The Castilian love of ease lies at the root of Spain's downfall.

Spoils of Conquest Lost.

England conquers and keeps her colonies. Spain has conquered and lost hers. Spain has shown no talent for administration, though before the northern nations became populous and powerful she was a conqueror not to be despised even according to modern ideas. Spain's colonial possessions have fallen away from her from generation to generation because she exploited them for the aggrandizement of her own grandees, just as her internal administration has exploited the Spanish people.

Throughout the world there is no nation more generally despised than Spain, because no nation has committed more and mightier crimes against weaker peoples who have grown strong despite oppression and have thrown off the yoke. South and Central America began the process of ridding themselves of the yoke a century ago. Forlorn little Cuba fought the Spanish exploiters for generations and won at last by the intervention of the United States. That war's result was the climactic humiliation of Spain. It broke her back, and it broke her pride. It uncovered her unsuspected weaknesses. She has been ever since a weakling nation, known of all men as such.

Spain's present troubles have their roots in the remote past. Taxation without representation, the levying of tribute without corresponding return in the way of benevolent assimilation—put your finger upon these things and you touch the very pulse of the machine that now threatens with annihilation the Spain of today and of the past twelve centuries.

Poverty of the People.

Both in her colonies and in her internal provinces Spain has levied tribute against the people to the ultimate edge of starvation and beyond. A recent sojourner in Spain tells us that poverty is "the most painful and haunting fact" that stared him in the face.

"On every hand are men and women in rags who have been hungry ever since they were born and expect to stay hungry until they die," says this traveler. In the hills between Malaga and Granada he found peasants working for from 4 to 8 cents a day, finding employment in the vineyards and olive groves only about seven months in the year. Read here what he says of Spain:

Her public men aspire to be dictators and negative every wholesome desire when it leaves no room for their personal advancement. All desires are of a suppressive character, press censorship, no public meetings, no free education, no unions or alliances, no emigration without permit, no petitions for work nor demonstrations against rapacious authority. With the placing of government supporters in every position of profit, the taxation of every form of labor, product and enterprise, no more is done than will raise revenue, fill the pockets and increase the boasts of those in office and add to the mountain of make believe composing the political and social system of Spain.

Dispute With the Vatican.

But the foregoing excerpt was written before Canalejas, the present premier, came into power. Canalejas is what we in this country at the present moment would call a progressive. He stands for a program of progress rather than for one of stationary adherence to the plundering policies of the past. An ardent Catholic himself, he nevertheless stands pat upon his demand for reforms, which are opposed by the Vatican. The anti-clerical party calls for the taxation of certain church properties and insists that the monks and other clericals who have poured into Spain from the Philippines and other countries, entering various kinds of business, shall be taxed as other business men are taxed. Absolute freedom in religious worship is another plank in the anti-clerical platform.

Many Catholics are enlisted with the anti-clericals, which faction also comprises Socialists, freethinkers and—word of dire dread to every European monarch—Republicans. Altogether outside the anti-clericals, moreover, is a distinct party of republicans which seeks to overthrow and vanquish and beat down utterly, and forever the monarchical form of government. These are the men who from day to day and from year to year have been working, hoping, waiting for a republic in Spain. The specter of republicanism is ever and always before the monarchy. For a brief time in 1873-4 there was a Spanish republic of a sort, with Emilio Castelar as dictator or president, but that eloquent orator of democracy admitted that he was unable to handle either "the red democracy of socialism on the one hand or the white demagoguery of Carlism on the other." Early in 1874 he was deposed by a vote of the cortes, the Spanish congress, and Alfonso XIV, father of the present king, drove him out of the country.

Specter of Ferrer Arises.

It appears that the present republican propaganda lacks a virile leader, though many able men are engaged in the revolutionary movement. The ablest of all the Spanish progressives, Professor Francisco Ferrer, was backed up against a stone wall and shot to death on Oct. 13, 1909, by order of the royal government. Ferrer was adjudged guilty of inciting the Barcelona riots of that year, though he denied the charge, and his thousands of friends still maintain stoutly that he was executed without just cause even in law.

The first anniversary of Ferrer's martyrdom—for such it is accounted by advocates of justice and progress the world around—has been awaited with apprehension by King Alfonso and his adherents. Murmurs of a general uprising for the overthrow of the monarchy have been heard. In anticipation of such an outbreak the army reserves were called out, the permanent army was made shipshape, the police and the civil authorities were warned to be on the watch, and that veteran general whose maladministration of Cuba did as much as any other agency to precipitate the Spanish-American war, Valeriano Weyler, took an active hand in preparations for the expected trouble.

Spain is more than five times as large as Portugal, which is about the size of the state of Indiana. The population of Spain is something more than 18,000,000. Portugal has about 5,500,000 people. In Portugal there is a party which favors the union of Spain and Portugal in one republic. Events may take such a turn as to make over the entire Iberian peninsula into a republic. This would make a significant alteration of the map of Europe, for, including France, it would give republican government to all the land between the strait of Gibraltar and the English channel.

PASSPORTS AT MILLENNIUM.

George Bernard Shaw Also Thinks Souls Will Have Numbers.

George Bernard Shaw furnished a little sketch of the coming millennium in a recent London lecture. He said that every man would have a number and name, every man would carry about his passport and his photograph on that passport, and every man would be liable to be called upon by a representative of the state to stand and deliver and show who he was and what he was doing or what he was not doing and why he was doing it.

He also observed that the world might have any amount of inequality of intellect, but he would let everybody have the same income as nearly as possible. Everybody should have a life income of $2,500 a year. The consequence would be, Mr. Shaw admitted, that every one would have to earn his living.

ISCHIA, SCENE OF DISASTERS

Romantic Island Off Naples Has Had Many Calamities.

The island of Ischia, sixteen miles southwest of Naples, that has been storm swept and inundated by a tidal wave, has had many like visitations in the past. The beauty and romance of the island have been sung by Thomas Buchanan Read:

Here Ischia smiles
O'er liquid miles,
And yonder, bluest of the isles,
Calm Capri waits.
Her sapphire gates
Begging to her bright estates.

Ischia is the largest of the islands near Naples, being about nineteen miles in circumference. It has a population of about 20,000, principally engaged in the cultivation of the vine, while some of them are fishermen. The scenery is very beautiful, and the island is a favorite resort of tourists. The entire island, it is said, may be regarded as a huge volcano, and it has suffered frequent seismic disasters. In consequence of one eruption it was deserted in the fifth century B. C. by the majority of its Greek inhabitants.

There were continued earthquakes in Ischia in 1906, and such a panic resulted that the Italian government sent two warships to take the inhabitants away. The entire population camped out for some weeks.

The island has had a stormy history apart from the frequent natural disasters. It was devastated by the Saracens, the Pisans and the troops of the Emperors Henry VI. and Frederick II. It was to Ischia that Vittoria Colonna, to whom Michelangelo's sonnets were dedicated, retired to mourn her husband's loss.

BRAGA'S HUNDRED BOOKS.

New President of Portugal a Voluminous Author.

What the future has for Senhor Braga remains to be seen. In the past the president of the Portuguese republic has devoted much of his time to literature. In the "Catalogue of Printed Books" at the British museum there are more than a hundred entries to the name of Senhor Theopolio Braga.

It is true that some of the works are merely pamphlets, but others are of good dimensions, and one, "The History of Portuguese Literature," extends to fourteen volumes. The greater part deals with matters purely literary, such as the "History of Romanticism" and the disputed authorship of the second "Don Quixote."

Senhor Braga's attitude toward religion is formulated in "Studies of the Middle Ages," "The Poetic Origin of Christianity" and "The Christian Legends." But the volume that will excite most interest now is "The History of Republican Ideas in Portugal," published in 1880. In it the author foreshadows the creation of a great occidental republic a federation of France, Italy, Spain and Portugal.
